Guidance News

The Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) will be administered to interested juniors and seniors on Friday, March 13 at 8am in the Guidance office conference room. The ASVAB is a career aptitude test designed to evaluate students who may be considering military service. It is not necessary for a student to be actively pursuing a military career in order to benefit from the results outlined in the comprehensive testing report. Advance registration is required, and students wishing to sit for the ASVAB should sign up with their counselor before the end of the school day on Tuesday, March 10.

Next Wednesday, March 11 is the 6th Annual Cape Ann Career & College Fair at the Gloucester High School Fieldhouse from 5:30-7:30pm. This is a unique fair because over 40 local businesses and organizations join with over 70 colleges and universities to offer information and insight on your post-secondary planning and a variety of options for networking. See you there!

Woburn High School College Fair, March 25th (6-8pm) at Woburn Memorial High School (sponsored by Woburn SEPAC)

Our fair is unique in that it's geared towards students with learning differences, but all students are welcome. Our goal is to inform students and families about the options and resources available to them after high school. We offer a wide range of colleges and universities from around New England that feature programs and supports for students who learn differently, and this year we've further broadened our scope with post-high school representatives from Harvard's Next Step, MGH's Aspire, AANE's LifeMAP, and Easter Seals.
